Origin and History

UCLID Avenue United Brethren Church was at first called Home Street United Brethren Church from the name the street was expected to bear. The church grew out of the Sunday-school begun in the year 1869-70, John Kemp being the superintendent. The school was held in the Ells' book-bindery, east of Summit Street, near the corner of Summit and Fourth Avenue. At the same time, in connection with the Miami Chapel organization, there came to be what was called the upper class, composed of members of that congregation living in what was called Miami City, William Clemmer being the leader of the class. In the winter of 1869 and 1870, a general revival extended all over Dayton, out of which grew the present organization of the Young Men's Christian Association and Woman's Christian Association. C. W. Miller, the pastor of Miami Chapel, took advantage of the prevailing religious interest and conducted evangelistic meetings in the Sunday-school room in the Ells' bindery. Many persons were converted, a large portion of them being received into the upper class before named, which, while continuing for a time a part of the Miami Chapel congregation, was already being shaped to become a separate church. In 1870 the Miami Conference adopted the following resolution: "That we take up an appointment in West Dayton and add to it the Miami Chapel charge, to be called Miami Chapel and Home Street Station, the preacher to divide

Mrs. William Clemmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Zehring, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Zehring, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. David Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kincaid, J. R. Hoffman, Benjamin Arnold, and Miss Lizzie Hoffman. Ninety-three persons were transferred from the Miami Chapel congregation, and seven were received from elsewhere, among the latter being Dr. and Mrs. L. Davis and Prof. and Mrs. G. A. Funkhouser. The organization took place in the fall of 1871.

The largest increase in the membership was during the pastorate of Rev. G. M. Mathews, 1884-1889, when the number enrolled came to be seven hundred and thirty-three.

The church building erected in 1870-1871 cost about $10,000. The value of the lot, estimated at $1,500, should probably be included in the amount named. The building was a two-story brick structure with a large tower at the front, situated at the center. The upper story, intended for the auditorium, was never finished. On July 9, following the dedication, one-half of the roof was blown off and the building otherwise damaged.

In 1881-1882 the building was remodeled and completed as a one-story structure, and dedicated April 30, 1882. The cost of reconstruction was $8,098.90, of which sum John Dodds paid $3,116.29.

In 1907, in the pastorate of Rev. P. M. Camp, the first direct steps were taken toward the securing of a new church home. In that year a subscription of $17,000, payable in two years, was received, the Ladies' Aid Society and the Sunday-school each subscribing $2,500 to this amount. In the summer of 1910 an additional subscription of $10,000 was taken, and the following fall and winter the work of excavating and the building of the concrete foundation were completed. The church site at the corner of Third Street and Euclid Avenue cost $7,000.

The following dates indicate the progress in securing our new church home: July 1, 1907, the securing of a deed for the site; November 8, 1910, the breaking of ground; May 28, 1911, the laying of the corner stone; and May 26, 1912, the dedication.

The total cost of the site and the building, plus the furnishings, including $750 for removing and rebuilding the organ and $500 for a vacuum cleaning system, was, in round numbers, $75,000, of which amount $36,000 remained to be provided for at the time of dedication. The subscriptions on the day of dedication amounted to $17,000, more than 15,000 of which was to be paid within one year.

The building committee consisted of A. W. Drury, W. F. Fackler, W. H. Cassel, Frank Wright, S. D. Faust and P. E. Little, together with the pastor, Rev. A. R. Clippinger.

A large committee of about eighteen members, including the persons above named, supervised the canvass for subscriptions and had final authority in awarding contracts. The co-operation of the congregation and the good will manifested throughout are deserving of the highest praise.

Mr. Charles Herby, the architect, was unstinting in the use of his time and skill in giving to the church its recognized beauty and completeness.

In the fall of 1911 the old church property was sold to the Society of Friends for the sum of $5,500, the pipe organ, the bell, and the Sunday-school furniture being reserved. The Friends had part use of the property from the time of the purchase.

The first anniversary of the dedication of the Church was held Sunday, June 1, 1913.

Bishop H. H. Fout preached the morning sermon, and the pastor occupied the pulpit in the evening.

The Treasurer's report showed that during the year over $13,000 were paid on subscriptions.

On Anniversary Day new obligations were made to the amount of $4,500, to be paid within twelve months.

The demoralizing effect of the flood on all church work greatly diminished both the receipts for the year and the new obligations.

The second anniversary was observed June 7, 1914, Bishop G. M. Mathews in charge. The cash and new subscriptions totaled $5,200.

Dr. J. M. Phillippi, a member of the local church, had charge of the third anniversary, which was observed June 13, 1915. Cash and subscriptions amounted to $4,300.00.
